ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In one embodiment, the present invention is directed to a method for providing an adaptive computer user interface. The method may comprise the steps of: monitoring operating system events associated with input from a user to generate a series of operating system events; determining whether said series of operating system events is unrelated; and when said series of operating system events is unrelated, offering help to said user.